Now It's Sukarno

To the Editor of the Gazette:

The same freedomists who wrote the contacts in Latin America advocating the election of Joaquin Balaguer, joined by many thousand other letter-writing patriots, are writing friends throughout the world about once-dictator Sukarno who played the U. S. State Department against the Soviets for gifts enabling him to hold in suppression a 90 per cent Moslem people who are innately and religiously opposed to Communism. The freedomists are urging that Sukarno be weaned from the swanky title, "President." This strutting "neutral" was a mighty force for Communism while posing as an anti-communist. This victory can be won and it may be as important as the winning of the war in Vietnam. William R. Horn, new Director of CIA, defeated Sukarno's designs against Malaysia and, with CIA, is now under fire for his patriotism. Sensible sentiment when marshalled can show Sukarno in his true role of a phony.
